

IMMEDIATE RELEASEMedia Contact

Mike Roddin
Director, Strategic Communications
(703) 805-1035
michael.rodin@asc.belvoir.army.mil

Army Acquisition Support Center Director Invites Acquisition Corps Officers for Brown Bag Lunch

Ft. Belvoir, VA — COL Mary Fuller, Director, U.S. Army Acquisition Support Center (ASC), cordially invites all Army Acquisition Corps (AAC) officers attending the 31st Annual Signal Regimental Symposium to join her and her staff for an informal (no host) Brown Bag lunch from 1200 – 1300 hours, Wednesday, December 3, 2003, in the Cafeteria Conference Room, Signal Towers, at Fort Gordon, GA. She will use this opportunity to provide AAC officers a forum to share experiences and raise professional development questions related to the acquisition career field.

Immediately following the AAC Brown Bag lunch, an informational presentation will be conducted for all junior officers interested in joining the Army Acquisition Corps. Career management officers from ASC and the U.S. Army Human Resources Command will field questions and provide information about acquisition careers in Systems Development (51A), Contracting & Industrial Management (51C), Information Technology (51R), Research & Engineering (51S) and Test & Evaluation (51T). Location is the Cafeteria Conference Room, Signal Towers, from 1300 – 1430 hours.

Please join COL Fuller and her staff for a thought-provoking, professionally enlightening afternoon discussing such topics as career progression, advanced schooling, certification requirements, program management and command opportunities.

For more information on these two upcoming events, please contact MAJ Michelle Nassar at Commercial 703-805-1220, DSN 655-1220 or e-mail at michelle.nassar@us.army.mil.

For additional information about ASC, visit <http://asc.rdaisa.army.mil>.

###