

2009 CDG/AAF Program Requirements

If you are selected by the Board for the Year Group 2009 CDG/AAF Program, you will be assigned to the U.S. Army Acquisition Support Center (USAASC) for a three-year period beginning in February 2009. You will work with an Acquisition Career Manager (ACM) to plan out your three years before the Program actually begins. We have developmental assignments in the Fort Monmouth, Warren, Huntsville, Washington, D.C., etc. areas, so you will work in a developmental assignment close to your current duty location for 6 months to one-year. During the three-year period, you will have approximately 4 developmental assignments. All of this is worked in conjunction with you and your ACM. In addition, there are other Program requirements which are the training part of the assignment. Here are the specifics on the training:

- ❖ Intermediate Qualifications Course (University of Texas, Austin) for 4-weeks
- ❖ 2 Executive Leadership Courses at Darden (University of Virginia, Charlottesville) for 1-week each
- ❖ National Training Center - Greening Program (California) for 4-days
- ❖ Congressional Operations Course (Washington, D.C.) for 5-days
- ❖ PMT 352B DAU Course for 5-weeks (if you have not already taken it)
- ❖ Six-Month TDY to Washington, D.C. for a developmental assignment at the Pentagon or Crystal City, VA.
- ❖ Apply to the Program Manager/Acquisition Key Billet Board in Years 2010 and 2011.
