

The attainment of professional certifications within professional associations is recognized as a special achievement for the AL&T Workforce. Membership and active involvement in professional associations offers unlimited opportunities for AL&T Workforce professionals to freely exchange ideas with their industry counterparts and other DOD and civilian agencies. AL&T Workforce members are strongly encouraged to develop professional liaisons with specialty organizations. Participation in professional activities may be used to accumulate CLPs toward fulfillment of the Continuous Learning Standard. You may acquire 10 CLPs in the year of certification.

Center of Excellence in Logistics and Technology (LOGTECH)

The primary mission of the Center of Excellence in Logistics and Technology (LOGTECH) is to leverage global best practices and explore leading-edge logistics technologies to prepare logisticians for advances that will drive logistics and supporting technologies in the future. LOGTECH achieves this mission through a series of integrated and sustained opportunities for "shoulder-to-shoulder" exchanges between the military, private sector and academic logistics communities.

LOGTECH offers advanced/executive courses in Logistics and Technology and Masters' degrees in Business Administration (MBA). The LOGTECH executive education programs are designed for military, industry and technology leaders in logistics and supply chain management to develop and improve their knowledge, decision-making processes, collaborative skills and networking facilities. For details, see specific course listings in this catalog. For additional details on the MBA program, go to: <http://www.logtech.unc.edu/>

Headquarters, U.S. Army Materiel Command serves as the DoD Executive Agency for LOGTECH. The Kenan-Flagler Business School of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, and the affiliated Institute for Defense and Business, are responsible for LOGTECH program execution and management.

Several organizations with which the acquisition community has enjoyed successful relationships are listed on the following pages. Membership and association fees are not reimbursable by the ASC.
