General Program Information

Identifying, growing, and developing our future civilian leaders is essential to the success of our acquisition programs. As a result, civilian talent management must be a deliberate and coordinated process to optimize leader development practices and align talent with current and future Army requirements

As part of the AAW Talent Management (TM) strategy, all Army PEO Product Director positions will be filled with centrally selected civilians only. A Product Director is defined as a leader for an Army acquisition system or program management office

(PMO) designated by the Assistant Secretary of the Army, (Acquisition, Logistics and Technology) (ASA (ALT))/Army Acquisition Executive (AAE) and managed by the Army DACM.

This position is based upon the management level of intensity (Acquisition Category (ACAT), funding profile, complexity, responsibility, span of control and life cycle phase of the program) the Army assigns to a particular weapon system or information system, but generally will be either an acquisition effort that is not a program of record or is a program of record that is post milestone C and still has cost, schedule, and performance responsibilities. A Product Director is a GS14, or broadband equivalent and will be subordinate to a PEO, Direct Report Program Manager (DRPM), and/or Project Manager.

Product Director positions are designated/validated by an annual ASA (ALT)/AAE Review Board (Centralized Selection List (CSL) Project or Product Manager (PM)/Military Acquisition Position List (MAPL)/Product Director Review) and will be filled through this annual CSB process. This process utilizes standard criteria to evaluate each program for cost, schedule, performance, funding profile, ACAT level and complexity, to delineate between project/product managers and project/product directors.

The FY27 Product Director selection board will be conducted in the same manner, and will utilize the same procedures and board members, as the FY27 CSL boards. The FY27 Product Director Board will immediately follow the FY27 CSL Boards. Slating of candidates found fully qualified for Command will be conducted by a TM Board of Directors (TM BoD) consisting of the Director, Army Acquisition Corps (DAAC), DACM, PEOs/DPEOs, and RCCTO Director. The DAAC has final approval for the Product Director slate.

Regional preferences will be submitted by all applicants, at time of application. Applicants may select either a region(s) or a specific location(s) within a region. NOTE: Although preferences are not guaranteed, every effort will be made to slate individuals in their preferred geographies.

It is imperative that you review the Product Director Policy dated 25 April 2022, located at <https://asc.army.mil/web/career-development/prod-dir/#policy>, to better familiarize yourself with program details including regional preference and declination requirements.

Anticipated FY27 vacancies, can be accessed on the USAASC/Army DACM web site at <https://asc.army.mil/web/career-development/prod-dir/#positions>. NOTE: Positions are subject to change. Organizations are continually evaluating program portfolios and additional Product Director opportunities may be added at any time. Please continue to visit the website for updates.

Pre-Command Course (PCC) training is not required of Product Director positions. Product Directors are encouraged, but not required, to complete the DAU training courses needed for DAWIA certification at the Advanced Level in PM, prior to assumption. However, Advanced PM certification is not required, to assume a Product Director position.

The designated Product Director tenure is 3 years but may be extended, not to exceed 5 years. Product Director selectees will be centrally managed by the Army DACM Office, in coordination with the PEO.
